The BBCNA would like to sponsor a neighbor to become a CERT volunteer.

Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) training is an opportunity for people of all ages, sizes, and physical abilities to learn valuable basic skills needed during an emergency.

Whether you are interested in learning how to take care of yourself and your family, your neighborhood, or taking an active role in community preparedness, the CERT training will help increase your confidence and provide peace of mind. The next training will start April 11. Please send an email to Renita (vancouverbbcna@gmail.com) if you are interested in the training.
