What is the City of Vancouver's HART?

The Homeless Assistance & Resources Team (HART) provides compassionate outreach and assistance to those living unsheltered and serves as a point of contact for community members with safety or sanitation concerns.

Services:

- Responds to reports of active or abandoned campsites
- Assesses campsites for hygiene/sanitation needs
- Provides outreach, assessments and referrals to services and resources to individuals experiencing homelessness
- Educates the community about the City's role in addressing homelessness and the legal parameters we work within
- Serves as part of the community's crisis response system, focused on homelessness-related street and encampment crises

Use the MyVancouver mobile app or online submission form to report issues to the HART team or ask questions related to homelessness in Vancouver, including:

- Non-emergency issues, such as behavioral health concerns, unwanted occupation of property, etc.
- Illegal camping or issues associated with active or abandoned camps
- Any questions regarding homelessness
- For urgent issues requiring a police officer, please call 9-1-1
