How the rent limits were calculated

The unit-based rent limit methodology is consistent with that used by the Washington State Housing Finance Commission and other jurisdictions around the state. It assumes the household size is 1 person for a studio unit and an average of 1.5 people per bedroom for all other units. The affordable rent is equal to 30% of income for the household size associated with the unit.

E.g. The affordable rent for a 3-bedroom unit is equal to 30% of the income for a 4.5-person household (3 bedrooms x 1.5 people/bedroom = 4.5 people). The income for a 4.5-person household is calculated by averaging the 4-person and 5-person household income.
